

DEMO DAY VIDEO CORRECTIONS

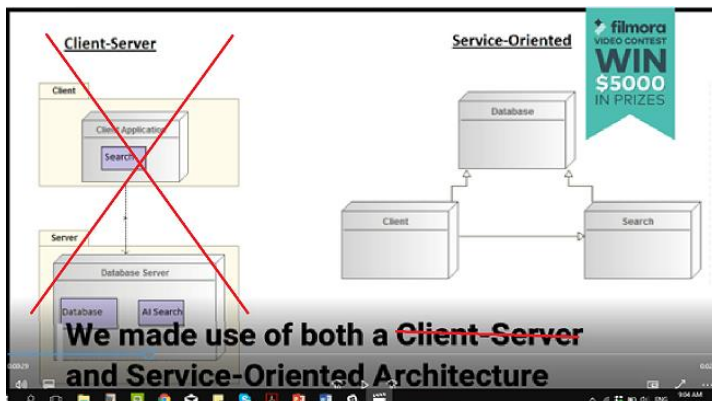

1. This text(below) has changed

Should be:

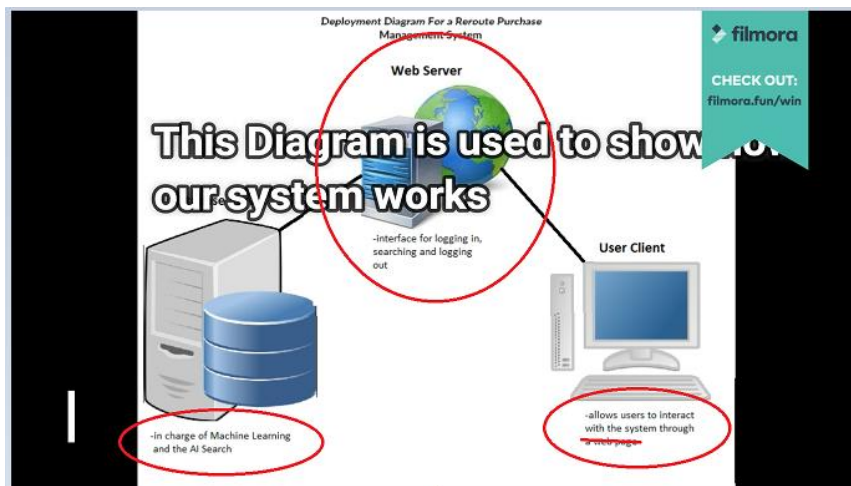

"This project forms part of the Reroute Purchase Management System, an application mainly active in the pharmaceutical space. It entails the use of Big Data, specifically a database including a massive number of products. Team Code X has developed a system with the ability to perform efficient searches using a database system called Zizo, that identifies patterns in the data set, compressing this data which allows it to be loaded into memory, resulting in lightning fast queries. Additionally, data can be linked by the client, allowing for more flexible searches, and is accessible via a Java interface."

2. Architectures are Incorrect

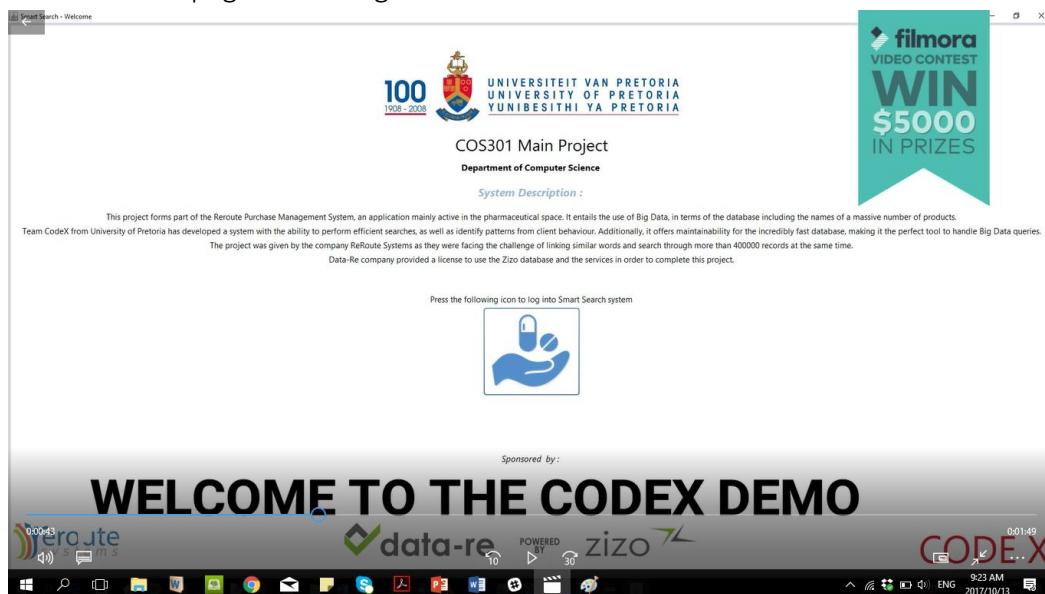

We are using SOA and Cloud Architecture. These diagrams are on Github.

3. The user manual deployment diagram

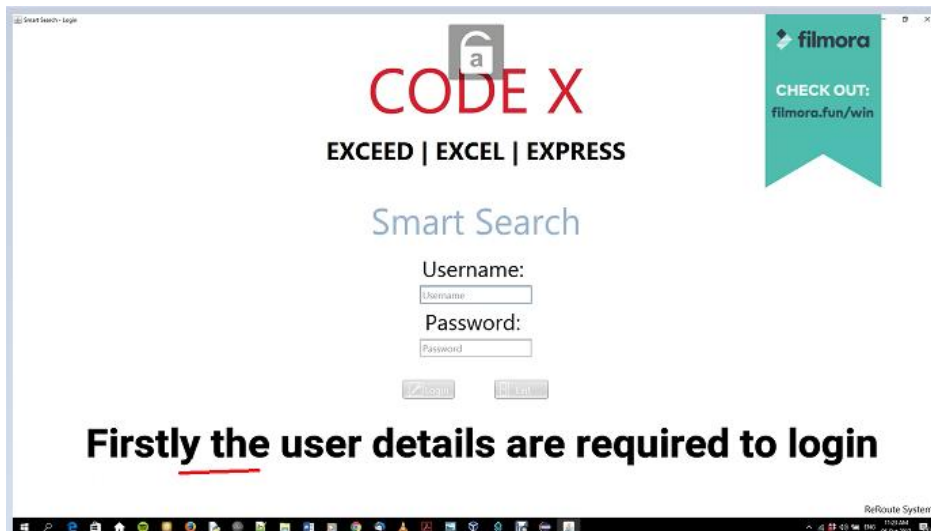

- We are not using ML and AI.
Have a look at the new text at point number 1.
- Also, it's not a webpage, just an application.
- Is it a web server? Confirm with Jocelyn
